Expansion Process and Application Information Packet

This supplements the Social Fraternity and Sorority Recognition Policy and outlines the required steps for an organization to expand at the University of Connecticut. To ensure responsible growth and to effectively support new chapters, the University, in consultation with the governing Councils and other stakeholders, will evaluate current campus conditions to determine if/which Council(s) will accept proposals for recognition annually. In conjunction with the steps outlined in this document as well as the Social Fraternity and Sorority Recognition Policy, each year each Council will be invited to explore the desirability, necessity, and feasibility of expansion or National Panhellenic Conference (NPC) extension.

Any organization or student seeking to establish a chapter at the University should contact the Center for Fraternity and Sorority Development, greeklife@uconn.edu, for additional information and before conducting any activities on campus.

This list of ‘founding’ members must be submitted and verified by the University. (see Section 6 for more information on this)

   a. Minimum standards (Level ‘C’) as outlined by the Expectations of Excellence.

A copy of the student organization conduct process outcomes may be available upon request.

Note: Organizations that meet the minimum requirements may increase their likelihood of receiving an invitation to establish at the University if they meet the following:

Only complete proposals will be reviewed in consideration for the anticipated opportunity. Therefore, it is the responsibility of the applying organization to ensure that all materials are submitted by the deadline. CFSD will not follow-up with an organization to request missing materials but may request additional/clarifying information if needed.

3. Presentation – Mid-February/Mid-March

Up to three organizations will be invited to deliver a presentation before the respective governing council and members of the university community (faculty, staff, and students). Organizations will be assigned a one-hour timeslot (at least 20 minutes should be reserved for a question-and-answer period). The presentation should highlight the components of the proposal and address how the organization will not just establish but sustain a new and healthy chapter at the University. More specifically, the presentation should include details on how the organization will provide a meaningful membership experience, meet university expectations, uphold policies and standards, and cultivate a positive partnership. Feedback secured from those attending the presentation and/or reviewing application materials will be used in decision-making.

4. Invitation – Late March/Early April

A committee, consisting of University staff and student leaders, will recommend organizations to continue in the expansion process. To ensure responsible growth and to effectively support interested organizations, its members, and the entire fraternity/sorority community during expansion no more than two (2) organizations will be invited each year.

The Assistant Vice President of Student Affairs/Executive Director of Student Activities, in collaboration with the Director of Fraternity and Sorority Development, will make the final decision. This decision will be based on current campus climate, community needs, and the capacity of CFSD to support a new organization. It is possible, even at this stage, that the University may decide not to invite any organizations to continue in the expansion process during a given year.

Organizations will be notified via email regarding the outcome. Organizations that were not selected may be eligible to reapply in the future.

5. Expansion / Establishment - April

Following the acceptance of an invitation, CFSD staff and representatives from the inter/national organization will work together to determine an appropriate timeline for chapter establishment and details regarding the provision of mutual support. Invited inter/national organizations will receive CFSD and governing council support for up to two semesters. Support may include access to meeting spaces, marketing/promotion assistance, as well as other agreed upon support measures. prospective interest group.

6. Recognition & Registration – TBD/Typically Fall Semester

Once there are the required number of prospective student members (see 2.G. above), students will be able to register the organization through the RSO registration process in Student Activities. Once the initial members have been identified, the students should submit a registration request via https://uconntact.uconn.edu/, and submit any required updated documents to CFDS for recognition. As is routine with all registration request, the submitted material will be reviewed by Department of Student Activities and CFSD staff. If after two semesters, the inter/national organization is unable to identify the required number of eligible students (see 2.G.a. above) the university will discontinue support and the expansion effort will be halted without recognition being granted and without any guaranty of restarting.
